The Victory Came to the Home Team in the

COTE DID GOOD PITCHING

Fielding of Weeks and Ziegler for Pennsylvania Was 'a Feature.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., April 6.Virginia won an exciting ten-inning game from Pennsylvania this afternoon by the score of 3 to 2. The Quakers put up a good fielding game until the extra inning loomed up. The first Virginia batsmen up, Cole and Rowe, sent grounders to Schuler, but the third baseman allowed both of them to escape him. Mason then dumped a bunt toward Schuler and easily beat it out, filling the bags. Springer hit in front of the plate, forcing Cole out home. Council was out on an intield fly. Crimian then could not locate the plate, giving Captain Stuckey a base on balls and forcing Rowe in with the winning run. Cole, who did the wirling for Virginia, showed some of his old time form. He retired twelve of the Quakers on strikes and gave no free passes. Carias was the only man who could solve his delivery, getting four hits out of five times up. The first Virginia batsmen was the only man who could solve times up.

Virginia scored in the second and fourth innings. In the second Council hit safety to center; was sacrificed to second by Stuckey, and tailied on White's clean hit down the third base line; Stuckey counted in the fourth after Cariss had dropped his pop fly. Pennsylvania tied the score in the fifth. Zeigler hit to Cracraft, who threw wild to first, Zlegler romping around to third on the error. Ziegler scored on Johnston's out. Crimean was safe on White's error, and tailied on Cariss's hit over second.

The features of the contest were the fielding of Weeks and Ziegler for Pennsylvania, the running catch of Rowe in left field and the backstop work of Chandler. While kept kept pace with Cariss and rapped out four clear hits in as many times at bat. The score:

Opening Matches in Tournament

Held in Boston.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BGSTON, MASS., April 6.—In the opening matches in a tournament for the national singles championship in court tennis at the new Tennis and Racquet Club yesterday, Joshua Crane, the champion, and C. E. Sands, of New York, went and C. E. Sands, of New York, went through their preliminary contests, and it is likely that these two men may meet in the final round.

Mr. Crane had a comparatively easy match, as he deteated J. J. Carnes in straight sets by a score of 6-3, 6-0, 6-3.

The match between George R. Fearing, Jr., and Mr. Sands was not so one sided, although Mr. Sands won by 6-3, 5-7, 6-0, 6-2. Mr. Fearing was not in good condition, Mr. Sands was thirty pounds lighter than he was last year, and showed splendid physical form.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.-It was deemed wise to scratch Imperialist at post in the steeplechase, with John D. Hooe's Calvorahatchee, an even money favorite. Thomas Hickcock, Jr's., Hylas was a strong second choice. For the was a strong second choice. For the greater part of the journey Calvorhalchee made the running. After the last jump was safely taken, there was much excitement when the "green jacket" was fast overhauling Calvorhatchee. Owens went out wide with the last named horse, but Ray took a straight line into the stretch, and though the contest was in Hitchcock started his colt Vendor in the two-year-old race. He is a dangerous candidate for Saturday's stake. Though beaten, he finished in front of the odds on favorite Patter, and the race was won by Miss Littlefield's Tickle, who outstayed the pacemaker Vendor. Tickle was ridden to-day by B. Miller.

Miss Littlefield also owns the Velled Lady, who won the last race. When, the proper time comes we will look the ground over and I'm sure George will give a good account of himself." Hackenschmidt is a marvel of physical perfection. He stands 5 feet, 10 inches, and the tape shows him to be 82 inches around the chest. His other measurements are: neck, 20 inches; waist, 33 inches; thigh, 28 inches; calf, 17 inches; he is catilike in his activity, and it was 'lig-sested that he must have shown some ability in other forms of sport, upon which he admitted having, within a year, run-200 meters (about 216 yards) in 23 seconds, and leaped twenty feet in a broad jump. All of the most rehowned westlers in the world and experts numbering several hundred have fallen before the prowess of the glant, who first saw the light of day in Jurier, a Baltic province of Russia, on July 29, 1877.

His first victim was Paul Pons, then the world's champion, from whom he gained a decision in St. Petersburg in forty-six minutes, Subsequent victories over Pons in longer and shorter periods soon gave him worldwide distinction, his last match of importance being with "Tom". On April 11th before the Corporation Commission a case is to be argued involving the power of that body to fix railway traffic rates. The railways claim that under the powers conferred by their charters the State cannot fix rates. Arrayed against the attorneys general will be many of the ablest attorneys in the State, representing the railway interests. The case is one brought to test the powers of the commission.

In the case of the Old Dominion Steamship Company vs. the Commonwealth, an appeal from the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, Major anderson will appear for the State two weeks hence before the Supreme Court of the United States. This case involves the power of the State of Virginia to assess for taxation the steamboats of this company that ply between ports of this State and are not used in interstate or foreign commerce, even though the company has its domicile in another State. The Commonwealth won the case in the State court, whereupon the steamship company appealed to the highest court in the country.

VAUGHAN-LLOYD THROWS GALVIN

Won Both of the Falls at the Casino Last Night.

OUTCLASSED HIS OPPONENT

Second Bout Lasted Fifty-eight Minutes-Preliminary

Was Fast.

Vaughan-Lloyd won out in the wrestling natch with Galvin last night, but the bleyele rider put up such a game fight on the mat that he divided the honors with the winner. After the bout, Galvin

"I have no excuses to offer. I met a man far cleverer than I am at this gamo and I hope my friends who lost their money saw the bout in this light. I did my best and lost."

The rain and loold were responsible for the lack of a large crowd, but fully two hundred sports braved the inclement weather. Amongst those present were Sergeant Balley, heavy-weight champion of the city; Dr. Vaughan-Lloyd, Messrs. E. O. McCabe, Benny Munroe, Edward Rose, T. M. Ladd, H. H. Hundley, Robert F. Holstead, Charles L. Peticolas, C. B. Wbittaker, T. L. Greene, Major J. F. Knowles, John A. Upshur, Jeffry Montague, R. Perry, P. Johnson, C. H. Brown, L. Vaughan-Lloyd, Fleming Christian, F. W. Loguna, Charles Chisolm, G. H. Holsler, F. L. Stewart, W. T. Hoppe, Chas. T. O'Rork, H. Vaughan-Lloyd and H. T. Taylor, Mr. W. W. Barnes was master of ceremonites. Catch-as-catch-can was the style of the match.

Mr. Ji.C. Pollard was referee and Mr. John Bowers time-keeper. D. V. Brooke, of Manchester, and George Herbert, of Richmond, got out on the mat for a preliminary. Herbert, the lchampion feather-weight of Richmond, went at Brooks like a whirlyind and won the first fall in two minutes and forty-five seconds.

He captured the second fall in one minutes and five seconds, outclassing his opponent and going as he pleased. This gave him the decision but he offered Brooks a third chance as an exhibition bout and threw him handly in three minutes and three within handly in three minutes and the crowd enjoyed it.

Real Match Begins. The rain and |cold were responsible

Real Match Begins.

Messrs. Vaughan-Lloyd, arrayed in a motiled bath gown and Galvin, in a red wrapper made their "inclination" to the crowd and then got, down to work. "Galvin was the aggressor and went at the Richmond lad with a dash that set the crowd howling. For ten minutes it looked like anybody's game and then in a flash Vaughan-Lloyd with an elbow lock and arm block, had Galvin over with his shoulders on the mat. Time, 10 minutes, 10 seconds.

After an intermission of ten minutes the best bout of the evening began. Galvin again made all the play and after twelve minutes of work had Vaughan-Lloyd on the edge for defeat. It looked as though all was over but the shouting when a quick shift saved the day. Vaughan-Lloyd lifter fifteen minutes of work your had Vaughan-Lloyd iffer fifteen minutes of work your had vaughan been a quick shift saved the day. Vaughan-Lloyd lifter fifteen minutes of work your had valved with arm lock on Galvin and for thirty-two minutes mashed him across the kidneys. Galvin adhough suffiting fearfully, was game and after repeated trials, finally broke Vaughan-Lloyd's hold. Loud cheers greeted this splendid test of endurance and pluck. It was but fighting off the inevitable, however, for the Richmond man put him down and out. Time, 55 minutes.

The crowd grew impatient during the many minutes of the last round and yelled, "It takes longer than Port Arthur," "We won't go home until breakfast time," and "kept time with their feet. All was excitement however when the decision went to the local man and the audience swarmed upon the stego to shake his hand.

Galvin sald, "I don't mind. This is easier than riding six-day bleyele races." Real Match Begins.

Senator Martin Speaks at Banquet To-night.

United States Senator Thomas S. Martin and Mrs. Martin left the city yesterday afternoon for Newport News, whence Mrs. Martin may go to her old home at Smithfield for a day or two. The senator will spend to-day in Newport News and will be a guest of the Chamber of Commerce of the shipbuilding city tonight. It is understood that he will be one of the speakers at the banquet there. He will probably spend to-day in the city meeting friends and handshaking and discussing the situation there and in the adiacent counties.

meeting friends and handshaking and discussing the situation there and in the adjacent counties.

It is regarded as likely that Mr. Martin will remain in Newport News and that with 'Mrs. Mertin he will witness the launching of the big battleship Minnesota to-morrow at the shipyard.

At the Martin headquarters in tals city during the absence of the senator the mail is being handled by his corps of aesistants. Hundreds of letters are coming in from every quarter of the Stute and thousands are going out. It keeps the clerical force busy assorting and classifying these.

Mr. Caskie, who presided at the conference of Senator Martin's friends Wednesday night, had not made up his committee of arrangements yesterday and consequently nothing has yet been done in the matter of the proposed public meeting. The date could not be even approximated last night.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHLAND, VA., April 6.—The lecture here to-night by Major E. T. D. Myers, president of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, was excelburg and Potomac Railroad, was excellent. A special train from Richmond brought up a number of railroad officials of different roads who have a high appreciation of the long and eminent career of Major Myers as a railroad man. He emphasized the remarkable progress of railroading and of transportation, and gave a most vivid idea of the wonderful progress of civilization due to quick communication. He showed in a most interesting manner how railroads have brought together the bright intellects, thus focussing intelligence and genius upon the many problems of civilization.
Major Myers gave graphic accounts of the early experiments in locomotion, and gave many of his own experiences covering a period of fifty-seven years in rail-roading. He treated the subject in a most scholarly manner and with great literary skill, and delighted a large audi-
